Tacto with responsibility

Tacto - in Spanish "sense of touch " – is a declaration of intent. Tacto wants to awaken our senses by enhancing the essence of our high quality carpets. We live a new experience through textures, colors and designs.

Tacto is the design brand of Kuarto carpets, a company with family tradition and years of experience in the production of carpets. Tacto is the fruit of that experience and the endeavor to offer a new and avant-garde product.

Having been designed for almost three years, every detail of this first collection has been carefully modified and improved. The collections have been created for interior design and decoration projects with warm and comfortable carpets that allow us to perceive pleasant sensations.

All our rugs are made without child labor. In our factories we guarantee fair and equitable working conditions for our workers. But we also care about their living conditions and actively work with the community to improve their access to education, improved housing, sanitation and water.

Tacto supports children's welfare through its membership with Care & Fair.
